

PANAMA CITY RESCUE MISSION'S
OPERATION WARM HEART
TO HIT THE STREETS TONIGHT

*As Freezing Temperatures Reach Panama City, Operation Warm Heart
Delivers Relief to the Homeless in the Area*

- WHO: Panama City Rescue Mission staff and program residents.
- WHAT: For the fifth year, Operation Warm Heart will hit the streets delivering hot chocolate, coffee, snacks, warm blankets and coats to the area's homeless still living on the streets.
- WHERE: Panama City
- WHEN Tonight, December 4th
- WHY Each day Panama City Rescue Mission provides more than 300 meals to homeless and needy men, women and children. It also houses an average of 150 people a night. This number does not reflect the actual number of homeless in the Panama City area.
- With freezing weather hitting the area tonight, Operation Warm Heart will go where the unsheltered homeless are to try and provide relief from the cold harsh streets and convince them to come to the Mission for the night where it will be safe and warm.
- MEDIA: The media are invited to ride along with Operation Warm Heart tonight, contact Ralph Morgan for details.
